I have recently spoken with the County Echo and I am currently editing an article that refers to the history of the site and the future ambitions of the Town Council to re develop Llanpit back to ,
" Fishguard's favourite rendezvous " County Echo 1912 article on Llanpit

I have made contact with the Design Commission for Wales looking to see if they can help with the initial stages of gathering momentum for the development of Llanpit and waiting to hear back from them in regards to a future meeting.

I have also had informal conversation with a local artist to look into drawing some example sketches of what the space could be like if re developed in the future.

I would further like to say that I would like to state in the local press article that we invite the public to be involved in this and share their local knowledge about the site of Llanpit as I think this could be important in terms of accessing grants and funding which it will no doubt require to be a success.
